LIVESTREAM EVENT VIA ZOOM

Dear Chinquapin Supporters,

For the past half-century, Chinquapin has weathered a variety of economic and climatic storms, and we've held our own against a host of trendy educational theories and approaches. Throughout, Chinquapin's constant has been the formation of a strong familial bond among students, faculty, and staff, coupled with high expectations for all. Our transformative approach ensures a 100% graduation rate and equips alumni to embody Chinquapin's quid pro quo motto as they go into the world and become community leaders. Despite COVID's unprecedented challenges, our community is resolved to work cooperatively, strategically, and intelligently to see this pandemic through and to further our important mission.

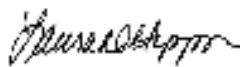

Since our founding in 1969, Chinquapin has remained true to that mission. From the very start, we have relied on the generosity of Houston's philanthropic community to help us deliver a rigorous college preparatory education to bright and motivated kids.

Perhaps more than ever before, your financial support this year is critical. Chinquapin's 161 students are counting on your contributions so that they can continue to attend small classes where their voices are heard and where they can make positive and lasting connections with faculty. Being part of Chinquapin's supportive community promotes lifelong learning and prepares students for success in college and beyond. Our 50+-year track record is proof that investing in Chinquapin makes good economic sense.

Please join us Wednesday, October 7, as we celebrate A Great Night With Chinquapin featuring NBC's late-night comedian Seth Meyers.

Attached you'll find sponsorship information for this great event. Please help us to secure the future of Chinquapin to transform even more learners into leaders. We look forward to seeing you there!

Sincerely,

Laura Hipps

Director of Development
